Amendments to the Specification:

Please replace paragraph [0051] with the following revised paragraph:

"In step 100, an input data record for which a prediction is to be created is input. This input data record for the neural network determines a point x. The input data records are stored as training input data records that form the convex envelope."